"Towered cities please us then,
And the busy hum of men."

Dame Partington, with her little top, could not push away the Atlantic ocean; neither can Sixteenth street, in the end, turn back the vast tide of commercial development rolling in mighty billows through the heart of Washington. After all, the champagne-Elysées loses nothing by combining utility with beauty.

An illegal night club may be a place where intoxicating liquor is kept by a patron, as the Chicago law holds, but whoever keeps it is a good sport.

Mussolini is such a versatile genius that he can settle a crisis in the Balkans as easily as he can make a speech.

Now that failure to stop grapes from fermenting has been held to be a crime, we expect to see poor old Father Nature in the dock almost any day.

Columbia professor points out a few errors in the war debt problem the author of the textbook.

Our Town, laid out by a man on a horseback, has outgrown its saddle, buggy, bicycle and street car days, and modern motor transport is cramped by engineering absurdities that were "up-to-date" in infant's day. Scott Circle and adjacent avenue must be cut through Farragut square, to relieve traffic congestion. A city that stands still turns back, and ours is going forward.

It looks as though Mr. Roy Haynes was about to show Mr. Andrew Mellon who is running this here treasury Department, anyhow.

Maybe this new "dry ice" would meet the objections of the prohibitionists to the night-club cafe service.

Mr. Howard Coffin, who is visiting our midst, will be remembered as a war-time aviation expert who put 10,000 airplanes on the Western front, the only reason the boys in the trenches didn't see 'em being because their eyes got strained looking.

GEOGRAPHICAL PHENOMENON.

South goes North.

The impairment of our local courts on account of a recent inmate filibuster gives to the opulent Senator Reed an excellent opportunity to do a little private governmental financing out of his vast pocket.

We trust that Virginia's celebration of the 150th anniversary of Patrick Henry's famous "Give me liberty or give me death" speech will be construed as a violation of the Eighteenth amendment.

The modern patriot who insists on his personal right to take a drink nowadays puts it "Give me liberty and give me death."

The wife of the Governor-elect of Georgia, who was shocked beyond words upon seeing a woman smoking cigarette, will probably get over it after she has broken into Atlanta society.

Virginia objects to the storage of high explosives at naval arsenals in that State, the object of a Federal appropriation being achieved when has been made.

If riots were in progress in New York city one wonders how much respect the rioters would have for life and property of the denizens of Chinatown.

Engineers are going to move the Chicago river bodily right out of the city. Train, boat or motor truck?

When the international balloon races are held in the United States this year things will be looking up.

Washington's new population of 25,240 furnishes another explanation of why a resident in Sixteenth street is going to have no more permanent habitat than a poker chip.

The foreign authorities in Shanghai may not call on the American consul, but we observe they call on the American Marines.

Gaffer Hexam never towed behind his boat through a Thames fog more gruesome find than that which the Anacostia river yields for 14 weeks of impenetrable mystery. Was Mrs. Houck murdered, or did a loving mother desert an unprotected baby and commit suicide? The mystery deepens.

It seems hardly necessary for Secretary Kellogg to explain that President Diaz's arms and munitions don't go on Nicaraguan banana trees.

Well, after all, there is no club like a cozy kitchenette.

MUNITIONS SOLD DIAZ GOVERNMENT BY UNITED STATES

3,000 Rifles and 200 Machine Guns Sent to Nicaragua.

INTENDED FOR USE AGAINST INSURGENTS

Kellogg, in Announcing Deal, Says Payments Are to Be Made Monthly.

By LINTON WELLS.
Managua, Nicaragua, March 23.—The Nicaraguan government has just bought from the United States a quantity of munitions to prosecute the war against the revolting liberal forces. It was learned today.

The supplies, which included 3,000 Krag rifles, 200 Browning machine guns with accessories and 3,000,000 rounds of ammunition, have reached Nicaraguan waters on a private vessel. The sum of $217,718 is involved in the transaction. The supplies were turned over to a Nicaraguan representative at New York.

The rifles were sold for $3 each and the machine guns for $200. The Nicaraguan government has given notes of $5,000 each, maturing monthly, beginning January 31, 1928, and bearing interest at 6 per cent.

It is believed here that the purchase of the armaments was negotiated by Don Alejandro Caesar, the Nicaraguan Minister to Washington, shortly after he presented his credentials to President Coolidge on January 20. The matter also was the subject of correspondence between the State Department and Charles C. Eberhardt, the American Minister here.

Nicaraguan officials pointed out that this is the second purchase from the United States, a shipment having been received here in 1921.

President Diaz's forces in the interior are known to be ready to begin a campaign against the army of Gen. Moncada, the liberal leader, and it is assumed the guns and ammunition will be used in this drive.

State Department Tells of Sale.

The State Department last night disclosed that the United States War Department has sold a quantity of rifle machine guns and ammunition to the Nicaraguan government, and that the supplies have already reached the Diaz forces. The admission of the State Department came after confirmation had been obtained of the fact that the arms had reached their destination, thus removing the necessity for the government further maintaining secrecy on the shipments.

The State Department declared the present sale of arms to the Diaz government was on the same basis as the 1921 sale and similar to the action of the United States in 1924 when war supplies valued at $1,250,000 were sold to the Oregon government in Mexico when threatened by the de la Huerta revolution.

Secretary Kellogg authorized the following statement regarding the arms sale to Nicaragua:

"The Nicaraguan government has purchased from the United States War Department 3,000 Krag rifles, 200 Browning machine guns with accessories."

MELLON PREPARING FOR TRIP TO EUROPE

Secretary May Leave the City Today to Visit His Sick Daughter.

(By the Associated Press.)
Secretary Mellon is contemplating an immediate trip to Europe. Announcement of his plans is expected today.

It is the Treasury head's desire to visit his daughter, Mrs. David K. E. Bruce, whose husband has been stationed in Rome as a vice consul. She has been reported ill in health.

If Mr. Mellon decides to go ahead with his plans to visit Europe, it is understood to be his intention to leave Washington late today. Secretary surrounded his preparations yesterday, but it was said that governmental business was not involved.

Mr. Mellon went to Europe last August, primarily to visit his daughter, but while there conferred with European statesmen on international problems affecting the United States. If he decides definitely to make another transatlantic trip it is probable that informal discussions with men high in European affairs will take place as an incident to his stay on the continent.

It is not known how long the Secretary would be away from Washington.

6 or More Lose Lives In Silesian Car Crash

Glatz, Prussian Silesia, March 23 (By A. P.).—At least six persons were killed and eight seriously injured in an automobile accident this morning when a truck, carrying 70 workers to a factory near here, got out of control and dashed down a steep incline.

It is feared the death list will grow as the removal of the debris advances.

Zoning Commission Keeps 16th Street Residence Area

Refuses to Change Status South of Scott Circle to Commercial—Defers Ruling on Increasing Heights in Downtown Sections.

Following a contest in which prominent citizens were arrayed against each other in public hearing, the zoning commission yesterday refused to change Sixteenth street northwest, from H street to Scott circle, from a residential to commercial area. The commission also, for the fifth time, rejected a petition of Mrs. Annie Stearns for permission to rent stores in the first floor of an apartment building erected by her five years ago in violation of the zoning rules in Columbia road between Seventeenth street and Mozart place northwest.

Decision was deferred on application by the Earle theater building owners for permission to add stories up to the height of 130 feet. At next month's hearing the commission will consider an amendment to the code to increase the height limit to 130 feet throughout the 110-foot zone, provided that any building exceeding 130 feet in height must be located on a street not less than 110 feet wide, must be limited to twelve stories and must be stepped back at the height of 110 feet, 6 inches all around the structure for each foot of additional height.

The Earle theater building application will be considered at the same time, as also will an application by the estate of John R. McLean for increase of height restriction from 110 to 130 feet in the square bounded by H, I and Fifteenth streets and Vermont avenue northwest, with a setback of 10 feet at the height of 110 feet, as described in the proposed amendment.

Attorney Daniel Thew Wright, representing Senator Porter H. Dale, of Vermont, was the first speaker on the proposed change in Sixteenth street. He said that south of Scott circle the thoroughfare was no longer residential in character; that volume of automobile traffic, honking of horns, "intolerable smell of gasoline" destroyed repose, and that residents who could afford to live where they wished to had moved away and then found they could neither sell nor rent their residences.

"Windows and doors are lifeless," he said. "Houses stare at one with dead eyes."

He compared Sixteenth street with Fifth avenue in New York, formerly a fine residence street, but now given over to shops. He said the march of progress could not be stopped.

HAYNES NOW SLATED FOR PROHIBITION CHIEF

President Reported to Have Accepted Choice of Willis and Wayne B. Wheeler.

ANDREWS MAY GET OUT PROFIT IN CONVICTIONS

Announcement that Roy A. Haynes is to be the new prohibition czar, charged with the enforcement of the dry laws after May 1, will be made within the next day or two unless there is a last minute change of plans by the administration.

This was asserted positively last night after Secretary of the Treasury Mellon had conferred with President Coolidge, presumably over the appointment of the new active commissioner of prohibition.

Brig. Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who has been in charge of prohibition enforcement, is understood to be ready to tender his resignation to become effective on May 1, the day of Haynes' anticipated rise to power.

Haynes has been commissioner of prohibition in name only for two years or more. He has sponsored the underground system which figured in the charges against District Judge Cooper, of New York, and is generally credited with a determination to employ drastic methods in harmony with his "fanatical devotion"—as his enemies phrase it—to the dry cause. He has the support of Wayne B. Wheeler, head of the Anti-Saloon league, and the league's public manifesto of March 12 is understood to have had references to Haynes when it stated:

"The Antisaloon league and other dry forces are making a determined appeal to the President and Secretary Mellon to enforce the prohibition laws."

Attorneys Collins and Emory R. Homer, of Arlington county, representing the automobile association, said that under the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court, the mayor may not preside at a trial if he is compensated from the fine in the case. Kleyseuber, they say, receives $3 for a conviction and $150 for an acquittal.

Alleging that promiscuous fining of motorists has been going on for some time at the court they said the association has determined to stop it. If the writ is not granted they intend to press the pending appeal to action.

Slayer of 13 Persons Gets Second Reprieve

Austin, Tex., March 23 (By A. P.).—George J. Hassell, of Farwell, Tex., confessed slayer of thirteen persons, sentenced to die March 25, was granted a second 30-day stay of execution by Gov. Dan Moody today.

Hassell's execution, first postponed from February 25 by a 30-day reprieve, now is set for April 25 unless higher court action results in a reversal. In giving reasons for the second act of clemency, recommended yesterday by the board of pardons, Moody said the death warrant was illegally executed. He granted Hassell 30 more days in which to file an appeal.

DAISY CHAIN HONOR TO WASHINGTON GIRL

Only 5 of Vassar's 22 Beauties Have Their Hair Bobbed.

Special to The Washington Post.
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 23.—The most coveted honors Vassar students can win, outside of those of scholastic nature, were distributed today when the names of the 22 sophomores who will carry the daisy chain in the commencement exercises this year were announced.

For the first time in years there will be twins among those who bear the burden of the thousands of daisies on their shoulders. They are Hildegard and Natalie Gauss, of Providence, N. J., daughters of Dean Gauss, of Princeton university.

Only 5 among the 22 girls have bobbed hair. The number of blondes and brunettes is about even. Among those selected is Martha Ellis, of Washington.

FLORIDA, CUBA—Reduced round-trip fares, 15-day limit. Jacksonville, $31.25; Miami, $45.75; Tampa, $39.62; St. Petersburg, $40.50; Havana, $72.50. On sale March 12, 19, 26, April 2, 9, 14. Stopovers allowed. Atlantic Coast Line, 1418 N. St. N. W. Main 7958.

AUTOISTS SEEK CLOSING OF MAYOR-POLICE COURT

Fine in Potomac, Va., Com- batted as in Violation of U. S. Tribunal's Ruling.

PROFIT IN CONVICTIONS

Contending that Mayor William Kleyseuber is unable to give a fair trial because of financial interest in the convictions, the American Automobile association yesterday asked Judge Samuel G. Brent of the Arlington county circuit court to issue a writ of prohibition closing the mayor-police court of Potomac, Va.

A hearing on the application will be given by Judge Brent at 10 o'clock this morning in Alexandria, Va. If the writ is granted, writs of prohibition may be procured against similar courts operating in the State.

The action of the automobile association grows out of a fine for speeding imposed by Mayor Kleyseuber Monday on Alonzo Brooks, a member of the association. Brooks objected to the mayor trying the case, because of the fee he would receive in case of conviction and because he was an executive officer of the town. The trial proceeded, however, and Brooks was fined $10 and $10 costs.

Attorney Charles C. Collins noted an appeal to the circuit court. In addition to the writ of prohibition, a petition yesterday was filed against Mayor Kleyseuber ordering him to produce records and papers in the case. The mayor, A. F. Driscoll, the town sergeant, and Walter E. Varney, corporation attorney, have been summoned as parties in the action.

Attorneys Collins and Emory R. Homer, of Arlington county, representing the automobile association, said that under the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court, the mayor may not preside at a trial if he is compensated from the fine in the case. Kleyseuber, they say, receives $3 for a conviction and $150 for an acquittal.

Alleging that promiscuous fining of motorists has been going on for some time at the court they said the association has determined to stop it. If the writ is not granted they intend to press the pending appeal to action.

Dog Saves Captain And Ship; Is Killed

(Special Cable Dispatch.)
Sydney, March 23.—A dog today saved the life of the captain of the Ussuri Maru, lying in Port Adelaide, and also saved the vessel from destruction by fire.

The captain was awakened early this morning by the dog's continuous whimpering and was met by a volume of smoke pouring from the officers' quarters. He sounded an alarm. The flames were put out with considerable damage to the quarters. The dog was trapped in the captain's quarters and suffocated.

HOUCK, IN OREGON, WILLING TO RETURN FOR WIFE'S INQUEST

Gordon, However, Asserts Doctor Will Not Be Brought Here.

POLICE FIND BODY IN EASTERN BRANCH

Autopsy Discloses No Foul Play; Chemical Analysis of Tissues Awaited.

Albany, Oreg., March 23 (By A. P.).—Dr. Knutt Houck, detained here today in connection with the finding of the body of his wife in the Potomac river, at Washington, D. C., will start back to that city as soon as arrangements can be made with Washington officials.

This was announced late today by Dr. Dean Crowell, cousin of Dr. Houck, at whose home the Washington physician has been visiting here.

"Dr. Houck is anxious that all mystery in connection with the death of his wife shall be cleared up as quickly as possible," said Dr. Crowell. "The local authorities have wired to Washington expressing his willingness to return, and have asked that an officer be sent from there, or for instructions to have him go at once in custody of a local official."

Doctor in Poor Health.
"Dr. Houck is in poor health, and I wish to have him spared any unnecessary mental strain."

Dr. Crowell said a message had been received from J. W. Walter, of Canton, Ohio, telling of the finding of the body and promising details later. He said Dr. Houck had been in close touch throughout the months since the disappearance of his wife, with her father and his family, and that there had been no trouble between them.

Dr. Houck came here recently with his mother, Dr. Mary Houck, a physician of Lacrosse, Wis.

Before city officials received a telegram for detention of Dr. Houck a representative of the Associated Press called at the house but was refused admission. Mrs. Crowell stating that Dr. Houck's condition was such that he could not be interviewed.

Deputy Guards Houck.
When the telegram was received from Washington, Sheriff Frank Richards and a deputy went to the Crowell home, and the deputy remained there guarding Dr. Houck.

Dr. Crowell said Dr. Houck had been recuperating from a breakdown following the disappearance of his wife and had come West on a vacation trip.

When informed of the finding of the body of Mrs. Houck, Dr. Crowell said the circumstances seemed to bear out the opinion long held by members of the family that she had ended her own life.

Not Wanted, Gordon Says.
United States Attorney Peyton Gordon, whose office cooperated with the local police in the Houck case, announced last night that Dr. Knutt Houck would not be brought here for the inquest over Mrs. Houck's body.

Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, had announced earlier that a detective would be sent for Dr. Houck as soon as he was placed under arrest. But Maj. Gordon said that this city had no right to bring Dr. Houck all the way across the continent when there was no evidence that a crime had been committed.

The inquest can not be held until Dr. Oscar B. Hunter, pathologist of George Washington university hospital, completes a chemical analysis of the body.

Student Shoots Self; Sees No Use in Life

Detroit, Mich., March 23 (By A. P.).—Leaving a note in which he stated "I really don't see the use of hanging around," Delbert James, 19, student of a preparatory school at Fordson, near here, shot himself through the head here today. Physicians at a hospital where he was taken said recovery is not expected. James wrote:

"Well, I don't know where I'm going, but I will write you when I arrive there. I really don't see the use of hanging around any longer. The flesh is willing but the spirit is weak."

Vermont Senate Asks Coolidge's Reelection

Montpelier, Vt., March 23 (By A. P.).—The Vermont senate today called for the reelection of President Coolidge. The senate adopted the following resolution:

"That we, the duly elected members of the general assembly of the State of Vermont, reaffirm the faith of Vermont in the administration of its native son, Calvin Coolidge, President of these United States, endorse his policies, and affirm that the continuing peace and prosperity of this country call for and require his reelection."

858 Typhoid Cases Fought at Montreal

Montreal, March 23 (By A. P.).—One hundred and fifty-three new cases of typhoid were reported today, the largest daily total since the epidemic began March 4. This brings the total cases to 858.

An emergency hospital was opened today, since all regular hospitals are taxed to capacity.

Twenty-nine deaths have resulted from the disease since the first of the year.

Impure milk and water have been held responsible for the epidemic.

FIELD OF EVIDENCE IN FORD LIBEL SUIT IS FURTHER LIMITED

Letters, Warning Dear- born Editor of Errors, Are Barred Out.

REED AND GALLAGHER HAVE ANGRY CLASHES

Sapiro, Plaintiff, Appears as Counsel, Reading Clip- pings to Jury.

Detroit, Mich., March 23 (By A. P.).—Further limitation of the field of evidence, the listing in the record of more alleged libels and the appearance of the plaintiff as an attorney were the net results of today's session of Aaron Sapiro's $1,000,000 libel suit against Henry Ford.

The day was marked by several displays of temper by the attorneys after ten days of nerve-racking court room work, nearly every minute of which has found attorneys for both sides on their feet fighting for the advantage.

All in all it was another drab session with William Henry Gallagher, Sapiro's chief of counsel, referring to the soon-to-be-amended declaration, alleging 141 separate and distinct libels, and then reading from back numbers of the Ford-owned Dearborn Independent, the parts of articles to which exceptions were taken.

In the arduous task of reading, Gallagher was spelled four times by Sapiro. That was the extent of the plaintiff's active participation, although he was admitted to practice the day the trial was opened and since has advised Gallagher frequently in whispered conferences.

Ford's Appearance Delayed.
It was believed that the appearance of Mr. Ford as a witness had been pushed over into next week by the day's slow progress. It had been Gallagher's intention to call the motor car manufacturer Friday, but the attorney had intended to complete examination of William J. Cameron, editor of the Dearborn Independent, and call Fred L. Black, business manager of the weekly, before he called Ford.

Federal Judge Raymond previously had denied the admissibility of evidence concerning Ford's ideas about the Jewish race, and today he barred the introduction of letters from third persons written, according to Sapiro's counsel, to warn the Dearborn Independent of inaccuracies in its anti-Jewish articles and alleging unreliability of the writer, Harry H. Dunn, of Berkeley, Calif.

A letter from A. C. Cherry, of Yakima, Wash., member of the Northwest Hay Growers association, was barred and the ruling fixed the precedent.

Judge Raymond held that there were two possible purposes for which such a letter might be admissible. One would be to show that the Independent contained misstatements after receipt of such a letter, but that subsequent articles dealt with subjects other than that discussed in the Cherry letter.

The other purpose, he said, would be to show that Dunn, who used the Independent, was a person of good character.

By this statement, according to District Attorney Newcombe, Judd Gray himself helped turn down his alibi, whereby his friend Haddon had agreed to post Gray's letters, "rumple his bed" in a Syracuse hotel and otherwise make it appear that Judd Gray was in Syracuse when Haddon Gray thought Judd (CONTINUED ON PAGE 4, COLUMN 2.)

Auto Speed Test Set for Daybreak

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 23 (By A. P.).—Daybreak tomorrow has been selected as the time for the annual speed test of the "Mystery 8," piloted by Maj. H. O. D. Segrave on the sands of Daytona Beach.

Preliminaries to the trial of speed will begin at 4 o'clock, and will be announced. The beach is in perfect condition and the tide will be low at that time.

30 Lift 72-Ton Car To Save Pinioned Man

New York, March 23 (By A. P.).—Thirty men, with improvised timber levers, today lifted a 72-ton steel car 7 1/2 inches so Richard O'Connell, a Long Island railroad brakeman, 42 years old, could take his shoe off.

When he got his shoe off, he slipped under the 72-ton shadow of death, where for two hours he had been caught between a locomotive cow-catcher and the rear of a freight car, the slightest horizontal movement of either of which would have killed him.

O'Connell was caught when the locomotive was riding jumped the track and crashed into a standing car.

Man Whose Wife Was Held Up Recently Believes He Wounded One.

One negro robber is believed to have been shot last night in a pistol battle between Henry A. Lemmer, 30 years old, and two negro youths who failed in their attempt to hold up Lemmer in his delicatessen store at 1539 Fifth street northwest. The robbers escaped, darting into an alley near Fifth and Q streets northwest, while Lemmer fired a parting shot at them.

Police believe they may be the same two who held up and robbed Lemmer's wife, Mrs. Sadie Lemmer, the night of March 1, of a small amount of money. The robbers, unmasked, entered the store shortly before 10 o'clock, Lemmer told Headquarters Detective B. W. Thompson. Before Lemmer could ascertain what they wanted one of them pointed a pistol at him. Lemmer drew a pistol he carried under his apron and fired twice. He thinks he hit one of them. They returned fire as they fled.

Court Denies Right To Spank Daughter, 20

New York, March 23 (By A. P.).—The right of a parent to spank a 20-year-old daughter was denied in the court of special sessions today, when Abraham Lincoln Eglington, bond broker, was fined $50. He paid, but announced he would appeal.

Eglington, convicted of assault two weeks ago, admitted he turned his 20-year-old daughter, Ruth, over his knee and spanked her. He denied the girl's charge that he struck her on the face, head and body.

MRS. SNYDER AND GRAY INDICTED AS SLAYERS

"Lied," Accused Man Tells Friend Who Helped Him Prepare Alibi.

SHE IS "TERRIBLY SORRY"

New York, March 23 (By A. P.).—A man who confessed to a friend who came to his aid that he was a liar and had deceived him, and a woman who sat in a cell, "sorry, terribly sorry," late today learned the news of their mutual fate when a grand jury indicted them both for murder of Albert Snyder, a husband who "stood in their way."

The pair in jail, Henry Judd Gray and Mrs. Ruth Snyder, will be arraigned before Judge Stephen Callaghan tomorrow morning.

The jury rendered its indictment as a climax to a day which saw the toppling of the man's elaborate structure of "alibis."

Judd Gray, the corset salesman, was not in Syracuse early last Sunday morning when Albert Snyder was murdered in bed in his Queens village home. The friend who had unwittingly lent himself to the establishing of an alibi for Judd Gray today kicked down the house of cards.

Judd Gray confronted a former classmate who has the same surname and was brought from Syracuse by the police, and according to the authorities, said:

"I'm sorry I got you into this mess; I'm guilty."

By this statement, according to District Attorney Newcombe, Judd Gray himself helped turn down his alibi, whereby his friend Haddon had agreed to post Gray's letters, "rumple his bed" in a Syracuse hotel and otherwise

LACKAWANNA ROAD FORMS SECURITIES HOLDING COMPANY

Wall Street Sees Preliminary Step in Merger With an Eastern System.

CONCERN TAKES BONDS OF GLEN ALDEN COAL

Action Only Segregates the Latter Company's Paper, Officials Assert.

New York, March 23 (By A. F.)—Directors of the Lackawanna and Western Railroad today directed the formation of the Lackawanna Securities Co. to transfer to it of $2,000,000 in treasury assets, including $1,000,000 of 4 percent Glen Alden Coal Co. bonds, and the distribution of the securities company's stock to railroad shareholders on the basis of one share of new stock for two shares of railroad company stock.

This action was characterized by railroad officials as the final step in the segregation of the coal company properties.

Wall street, however, was inclined to regard it as a preliminary step in the eventual merger of the road with some other Eastern trunk line system. No official comment on merger prospects was obtainable.

Under the tentative consolidation plan of the Interstate Commerce Commission, made public on September 28, 1921, the Lackawanna was included in the so-called " Erie system " which comprised the Erie, Delaware & Hudson, the Wabash lines east of the Mississippi, and others, or, as an alternative, grouped it with the " New England, Great Lakes " system, including also the Delaware & Hudson, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, New Haven, New York, Ontario & Western, Boston & Maine, Central New England and others.

Neither to be effected. Recent changes in railroad alignments indicate that neither grouping will be effected under the original plan. Some time ago Wall street heard that the " big four " in the Eastern consolidation field had tentatively agreed to permit the Van Sweringen to add the Lackawanna to the Eastern end of the greater " Nickel Plate " system. At the time it was reported that a distribution of Lackawanna's surplus would be necessary before an agreement on terms for an exchange of securities could be made.

In view of the inability of Eastern railroad executives to reach a general agreement on consolidation, due to the F. P. C. insistence on the Delaware & Hudson as the nucleus of a fifth system to compete with the New York Central, " Nickel Plate " Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania, the feeling has grown in railroad circles that some of the disputed roads would be " neutralized. " This would be accomplished by the purchase of a minority interest in such roads as Lackawanna, Lehigh Valley, Reading and others by all of the competing trunk line systems in order either to preserve the " status quo " regarding traffic and other arrangements or to make certain that all would be treated equitably in any future changes.

Stock Recently Advanced. Today's action of the Lackawanna directors explains the mystery surrounding the recent advance in the railroad's stock, which scored an extreme gain of 7 points today by touching 173, the highest price since the declaration of the 100 per cent stock dividend in 1921. In the same year the Glen Alden Coal Co. stock was distributed to Lackawanna shareholders for $5 a share. It now is quoted around $165. The official statement follows:

"The board directed the formation of the Lackawanna Securities Co. to transfer to it of $2,000,000 in treasury assets, including $1,000,000 of 4 percent Glen Alden Coal Co. bonds, and the distribution of the securities company's stock to railroad shareholders on the basis of one share of new stock for two shares of railroad company stock."

City Population 525,240, Boyd's Directory Shows

The steady upward progress of Washington is depicted in Boyd's 1927 directory of the District of Columbia, which has just been issued by the R. L. Polk & Co.

Washington's present population is estimated at 525,240, an increase of 28,268 over the preceding year. Many features in the book are well worth a few moments of study. Aside from the statistical and commercial features, there is a historical sketch of Washington. A statistical review which follows the historical outline shows the remarkable progress being made in the District and gives valuable data regarding bank deposits, the school, park and playground systems, vital statistics and various other data.

Value of military school as a supplementing factor to the national academies, in annually supplying the army and navy with officers, was stressed last night by Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, United States chief of staff, in speaking at the banquet at the Washington hotel of the Association of Military Colleges and Schools.

The banquet followed the opening session of the association's convention yesterday morning at the hotel. The session featured an address of welcome by Dr. Charles A. Plumley, and a report by Col. Sandy Beaver, emphasizing the military school as an educational institution. Addresses were made by Maj. Sanford Sellers, Col. George D. Eaton, Dr. Charles H. Young, Col. C. R. Endsley, Chaplain John F. Hagen and Lieut. Col. H. E. Jones.

Following Gen. Summerall as the banquet speaker, Brig. Gen. L. R. Cigliatti, chief of Culver Military academy, made an address. In the concluding address of the evening, Dr. Josef Washington Hall told the delegates that American treaty rights in China have already been abolished by the Chinese, although Secretary of State Kellogg has refused to recognize such a condition.

TRUCK DRIVER FINED AFTER CRASH HURTS 3

Autoist Is Given 30 Days on Charge of Speeding 38 Miles an Hour.

Wilbert Gatewood, colored, of 1704 Vermont street, N. W., was fined $50 or 30 days in jail in default, in traffic court last night on a charge of reckless driving preferred by Policemen Dale, McArthur and Sweeney, of the Ninth precinct, following an accident yesterday afternoon in which three persons were injured.

Gatewood, driver of a 5-ton truck, crashed into the automobile driven by Charles Chappell, 50 years old, of Riverdale, Md., at Eleventh street and Maryland avenue northeast. Chappell, his daughter, Miss Catherine Chappell, and Mary Woodmansey, 40, of Wilmington, Del., occupants of the car, were injured. They were taken to Casualty hospital and treated for cuts and bruises.

Harrison Gordon, colored, 778 Morton street northwest, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100 when he was found guilty of a charge of third offense speeding brought by Policemen I. E. Bridges, of the Ninth precinct. Gordon was charged with speeding at 38 miles an hour. He told the judge his "river" couldn't go that fast, but the judge thought otherwise.

Board of Welfare Withdraws Ban on Solicitation by Organization Agents.

THREE PERMITS ISSUED

The Salvation Army last night won its fight to solicit funds in Arlington county, Va. Following a meeting held in the office of Fletcher Kemp, at Arlington, the county board of welfare decided to withdraw its ban against the Salvation Army and at the same time to ask the State welfare board to make a survey of the county's social needs and resources. Permits to solicit were issued to Commanders E. Duer, Duerr and J. O. Eaton. The whole trouble between the welfare board and the army was the result of a misunderstanding.

"It was with no personal feeling that the action was taken against the Salvation Army," said Mrs. M. E. Jacobs, county superintendent of the welfare board. "Complaints of uncontrolled begging were coming to me daily. With the issuance of these permits all trouble will be ended."

Capt. E. R. Holz, the army's supervisor for Virginia, with headquarters here, declared that the army always was willing to cooperate with the local authorities.

"I have been all over the State since this trouble started, and you would be surprised to hear what good names the county," he said. "But I have stood up for the county, as I thought it was just a general misunderstanding."

No organization keeps a better set of books than the Salvation Army, he declared.

CLOSER MEXICAN WATCH ON CHURCHES ORDERED

No Explanation Made; Calles Accepts Abrogation of Treaty by U. S.

Arms Smuggling Is Cut

Mexico City, March 23 (By A. P.)—President Calles has issued instructions to officials to watch Catholic churches with increased vigilance, says El Universal Grafico. No explanation for the increased vigilance was offered.

Since the withdrawal of priests from the churches last August, in protest against the religious regulations of the Mexican government, the churches have been in charge of citizen committees appointed by the municipal authorities.

In making formal announcement that the United States government, through its embassy had notified Mexico of the abrogation of the anti-smuggling convention, the foreign office declared that the treaty was entered into at the special request of the United States, and that Mexico gave hearty cooperation to fulfillment of its provisions during the time it was effective.

"As the initiative for this treaty lay with the United States, as also denunciation," the foreign office says, "Mexico must consider the pact concluded in accordance with the terms thereof, as from the twenty-eighth of the present month."

Brownsville, Tex., March 23 (By A. P.)—No increase in the illicit movement of arms across the Mexican border is expected to follow the termination of the smuggling treaty between the United States and Mexico, officials along the border said today.

TROPHY PRESENTED TO BALLOON WINNERS

Mussolini, in Message to Luncheon, Pays Tribute to American Aviation.

Ward T. Van Orman and Walter W. Morton, both of Ohio, winners of the Gordon Bennett international balloon race in Belgium last year, yesterday were presented with the Gordon Bennett trophy by the Belgian Ambassador, Baron de Cartier de Marchienne, at a luncheon given by the American aeronautic association at the Carlton hotel.

Because of their victory the balloon race this year will be held in the United States under the auspices of the association. The national elimination balloon race, from which the American entrants will be picked for the international race, will be held May 29, at Akron, Ohio.

A message from Premier Mussolini of Italy was received at the luncheon. The message paid tribute to American aviation. It was presented by Commander Silvio Scaroni, air attaché of the Italian embassy, to Maj. Lester D. Gardner, who last year flew 21,000 miles over the air lines of Europe.

Congratulatory messages from Secretary of the Navy William B. Dillingham, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Postmaster General New, Assistant Secretary of War Davison, the national advisory committee for aeronautics, National Aeronautic association and the chamber of commerce were received.

U.S. INVESTIGATES STOCK FARM CRUELTY CHARGES

Inquiry Follows Reports Animals Were Taken From Fairfax County Place.

SEEK GOVERNOR'S ACTION

The Department of Agriculture yesterday began an investigation of the alleged inhumane stock farm said to have been conducted in Fairfax county, Va., by Chas. Offutt. Authorities last night had not arrested Offutt. Mrs. Blanch Finley, representing the State Humane society, was in Richmond with the intention of asking Gov. Byrd to take a hand.

The Agriculture Department's investigation is based on reports that some of the stock was removed from the farm a night or two before the authorities arrived. If the stock was taken out of the State, a Federal investigation may have been involved, the department investigators said.

A warrant for Offutt's arrest was in the hands of Special Officer C. A. Whalen. It was issued by Justice of the Peace John T. Moline on the strength of charges by Mrs. Finley that the stock had been left to die in enclosed pastures without food or adequate shelter. Considerable of the stock had died, it was charged, while still living and the stock said to have been removed were nearly starved

ANDREWS SUMMONS MEDICINAL WHISKY PARLEY ON MONDAY

Owners, Distillers and Warehousemen Called to Discuss Future Supply.

STOCKS HELD IN WOOD LOSING BY EVAPORATION

Decision on Distillation or Importation at Conference Held Unlikely.

Replenishment of the supply of medicinal whisky will be considered at a conference on Monday, called yesterday by Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, Undersecretary of the Treasury, to which all agencies interested in the subject have been invited.

Invitations have been sent to three classes throughout the country: concentration warehouse men, owners of medicinal whisky and distillers, who still hold liquor or have shown any interest in its manufacture under government supervision.

Under the terms of the Willis-Campbell act the commissioner of internal revenue may at his discretion authorize the importation or distillation of whisky, but officials under Gen. Andrews said yesterday that they hardly thought it possible that any such decision would be reached at the conference Monday.

The primary purpose of the meeting, it was said, was to determine whether some means could not be found of meeting the situation which was created through the failure of the medicinal whisky bill to pass the Sixty-ninth Congress.

Want Supply Bottled.

One thing that Treasury officials would like very much to accomplish, they say, is to have the remaining visible supply of medicinal whisky bottled and still further concentrated.

At the present time it is estimated that there are about 12,000,000 gallons of medicinal whisky held under government supervision. The large part of this legal liquor is held in warehouses in Kentucky and is still in wood.

As long as the whisky remains in the kegs it is improving in body, but evaporation losses are heavy. It is estimated that about 2,000,000 gallons of the liquor will be lost each year through shrinkage unless it can be placed in glass, which means that what appears to be a sufficient supply now to last for a little more than four years may, if precautions are not taken, be in existence for less than three.

Little hope was expressed at the Treasury that the conference will result in the formation of a single corporation to take over the existing stocks and distill additional whisky as was suggested in the bill which failed of passage in the last Congress. The conference will be virtually powerless to proceed except by unanimous consent and there are among those who still possess whisky as many men who are opposed to the creation of a single corporation as those who favor it.

May Press Bill Again.

It was intimated that Monday's conference may actually only be the first of a series. Government officials expect, by summoning all of the interested parties, to receive suggestions that will define some course of action which may be suitable to all concerned.

Lacking this the Treasury will probably press again for action on the medicinal whisky bill at the next session of Congress and, if an interval should arise during which the stock of aged whisky in this country had become exhausted, import whisky from abroad in sufficient quantities to provide for the legitimate needs that would arise until whisky of government manufacture could be placed on the market.

FAILURE TO STOP GRAPE FERMENTING HELD CRIME

Ruling Said to Affect Status of Farmers Who Make Cider and Wine.

INTOXICATION IS ISSUE

New York, March 23 (By A. P.).—Householders who do not go down into the cellar and put something in grape juice to keep it from turning into wine are violators of the eighteenth amendment, according to a decision given today in Federal court by Judge Augustus N. Hand.

He granted an order confiscating ten barrels of grape juice which chemists said contained 13 per cent alcohol.

The ruling, attorneys said, affects the status of farmers who make their own cider and wine, which heretofore has been considered immune to seizure.

The wine seized belonged to Mrs. Josephine Malone, who said she'd done nothing but put grape juice in barrels in her cellar. Her attorney, El Rosenberg, argued that it was legal to prepare grape juice for home consumption, and that confiscation was irregular unless it were proved that the wine was intoxicating in fact.

Quoting section 29, title 2, of the national prohibition act, Judge Hand said: "The penalties provided in this act against the manufacture of liquor without a permit shall not apply to a person who manufactures nonintoxicating cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in his own home, but such cider and fruit juices shall not be sold or delivered except to persons who have permits to manufacture vinegar."

He then declared: "I can hardly regard grape juice containing 13 per cent of alcohol as non-intoxicating."

"Possession of grape juice for home use which was nonintoxicating when manufactured by the possessor, becomes unlawful under the act whenever the liquor becomes intoxicating, whether through natural fermentation or otherwise."

HAYNES NOW SLATED FOR PROHIBITION CHIEF

to appoint a commissioner who believes in the law he is to enforce.

"The Secretary appoints the commissioner, but the President is required by the Constitution to see that the laws are enforced."

This was the first move, it develops, in a determined effort of Wheeler and Senator Willis, of Ohio, to bring about the appointment of Haynes. As the latter is from Ohio and as Willis was elected on a drastic enforcement program, the reasons for his marked interest were doubly apparent.

It appears, however, that opposition to the Wheeler-Willis-Haynes drive was expected from Secretary Mellon and Gen. Andrews. The name of Lieut. Comdr. Pennington, enforcement officer at Pittsburgh, has been mentioned as Mr. Mellon's choice for the new post. Gen. Andrews' interest is understood to have been for the procurement of a new commissioner who would act under the new law in a manner not calculated to arouse suspicion that the old methods of prohibition days were to be revived.

But indications last night, according to reports from those who oppose Haynes' candidacy as well as from those who favor it, were that President Coolidge has assured the Wheeler-Willis-Haynes supporters that he will follow the advice of the Anti-Saloon League and the senator from Ohio. Unless Secretary Mellon, who makes the appointment of the new commissioner of prohibition, makes an issue of this in his talk with the President the announcement of Haynes' appointment is expected within the next few days.

GRAY AND WIDOW INDICTED IN SLAYING OF ALBERT SNYDER

Gray wanted to keep a clandestine engagement in New York with a girl friend.

That the girl friend was Mrs. Snyder, wife of a middle-aged editor with whom the police say, Gray plotted the murder of her husband, was unknown to the Syracuse man, who made a "full and frank statement," Newcomb said, of his unwitting acts for his salesman friend.

Hadden Gray, together with another insurance man named Harry Platt, from Syracuse, were both released from custody after their statements. It was found Platt had no connection with the attempt to establish for Gray an alibi so that he could keep his engagement and still appear to have been in Syracuse "in case his wife called" or his firm telephoned to give him any further instructions for his Monday morning work in his Syracuse sales territory.

Counsel for Gray indicated today, before going into conference, that insanity might be advanced in his defense at the trial.

Mrs. Gray Has Collapsed.

Mr. Miller said Mrs. Gray was in a state of complete collapse, as she held the greatest faith in her husband until after she had visited him in jail yesterday.

When she first saw her husband she rushed to him and embraced him affectionately.

"I can't understand it," she sobbed, repeating the words again and again. Then she looked him straight in the eyes and said:

"Did you do this thing? We never had any trouble."

"Yes."

"Did you make a confession?"

"Yes."

Stunned, she remarked that he must have been drinking bad liquor and she left soon afterwards after first promising that she would come to see him as soon as she would be allowed.

Woman's Course in Doubt.

E. F. Hazleton, attorney for Mrs. Snyder, today issued a statement saying that he was not considering an insanity plea for his client.

He added that he was not yet decided whether to request that the woman be tried separately on the murder charge, or whether he would

NIGHT CLUBS FACE CLOSING IF PATRON DRINKS OWN LIQUOR

Circuit Court Upholds Order Against 3 Establishments at Chicago.

USE OF WORD "KEPT" IN LAW IS MAIN ISSUE

"Keeping" of Rum by Diners, Instead of Proprietor, Held Illegal.

Chicago, March 23 (By A. P.).—Night club liquor drinking took a solar plexus blow in a decision today by the United States circuit court of appeals.

The decision in effect was that night clubs may not permit liquor to be consumed on their premises, even when patrons bring their own. The court upheld an injunction under which 'Al Teaney's Town club, Friars' inn and Moulin Rouge were ordered closed for one year because patrons brought their own liquor and drank it in these places.

Judge Samuel Alschuler filed a separate opinion which, although dissenting from the decision from the judges A. B. Anderson and George T. Page, recommended that the case be referred immediately to the Supreme Court.

"The drastic penalty of a year's closing by an order of court and without a jury," said Judge Alschuler, "can not be safely extended by implication, and ought not to be applied unless clearly authorized by the law."

The government's action was based on complaints that "on repeated occasions persons came there as patrons and procured from bottles or their pockets liquor or drinks containing liquor, which, waiters supplied cracked ice and ginger ale, drew the corks and assisted the patrons in their consumption of the liquor."

Main Issue Is Word "Kept."

Judges Anderson and Page found the main point raised by the defendants in their appeal was that "persons patronizing the restaurants consumed the liquor brought there by themselves and not furnished, transported, kept, possessed or sold by the management."

The decision was based upon an interpretation of the word "kept" as used in section 21 of the prohibition law which says "any . . . place where intoxicating liquor is manufactured, sold, kept or bartered in violation of this title, and all intoxicating liquor and property kept and used in maintaining the same is hereby declared to be a public nuisance."

"Attention is called to the fact," the decision stated, "that this section does not say any place where the proprietor thereof keeps liquor, but declares any place where liquor is kept in violation of the law—no matter by whom kept—to be a public nuisance. We may therefore, put to one side the contention that the proprietors were not shown to have kept the liquors."

The night clubs, through counsel, pleaded that the Volstead law "prohibits the consumption of liquor, and nowhere prohibits people from congregating and consuming their own liquor."

Davis Protests at Order Restraining Le Paradis

Meyer Davis, proprietor of Le Paradis cafe, 1 Thomas circle, yesterday protested to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews, chief of prohibition enforcement, against the effort of the prohibition agents which resulted in a court order compelling the proprietor and employees of the cafe to observe the prohibition law. He deplored, he said, the "extreme zeal which led them to request a drastic legal action, which, if carried through, might result in a heavy and unjust property loss."

Declaring he consistently had sought to live within the letter and spirit of the prohibition law in conducting the cafe, the exclusive patronage of which he impliedly admitted, Davis painted a picture of a drearily empty and quickly bankrupted cafe if he set a watch over every table occupied by a patron.

Discussing allegations of the prohibition agents in their request for a restraining order, Mr. Davis declared open drinking is forbidden and suppressed by the management and that the cafe kitchen is of ample size to supply all the food required by patrons. He inquired of Gen. Andrews, chief of prohibition enforcement, whether he would be served with ginger ale how could patrons be expected to consume it? He declared he was in hearty accord with law observance.

to the woman and her lover being tried at the same time.

"I have learned authoritatively," he said, "that Mr. Snyder did not recently raise his insurance, as it has been commonly reported. On his own volition, he raised his policy to $50,000 two years ago."

Mrs. Snyder, after a restless night in her cell in the Queens county jail, where Gray also is held, made several requests today that she be permitted to attend the burial of her husband.

Funeral services for the middle-aged magazine art editor were held at the Queens village residence last night. Mrs. Snyder's plea to join the procession today to Mount Olivet cemetery were denied.

Mr. Hazleton, after talking to his clients reiterated today that he believed Mrs. Snyder's alleged confession had been made under duress.

He added that Mrs. Snyder did not drink at her home the night of the murder, was not a drinking woman and had been temperate all her life.

He characterized as absolutely false published reports that his client was expecting to become a mother.

He said Mrs. Snyder probably will receive eventually the $25,000 insurance carried by her murdered father, it was learned today. The law in this state specifically provides that a murderer shall not benefit from the life insurance policy of a victim.

Liberty Loan Trade Tops $1,350,000,000

(By the Associated Press.)

Exchange of Second Liberty Loan 4½ per cent bonds for the new 3½ per cent five-year Treasury notes totaled more than $1,350,000,000 when the subscription books closed.

The Treasury last night announced subscriptions reported totaled $1,354,611,650, representing 44 per cent of the total amount of second 4½ per cent bonds outstanding March 8, when the exchange offer was announced. Related receipt of subscriptions in the mails or otherwise in transit, is expected to boost the total slightly.

pen name of "Robert Morgan," was retained as a correspondent after Ford's action was published in newspapers and brought to the attention of the editors.

But unreliability of a writer or lawyer, the judge continued, could not be included from evidence or several mistakes, and Dunn's reliability would have to be established by his general reputation as a reporter or writer.

"It would be almost unsafe, I think, to receive that type of evidence."

After the noon recess Judge Raymond learned that the Cherry letter had been published in newspapers and warned the more than a score of correspondents present not to refer hereafter to evidence offered and received in his first clash with opposing counsel at this juncture.

Arguing against admitting the Cherry letter, he charged it was written by the Yakima man at the request of one of Sapiro's associates. Turning to Sapiro, Senator Reed asked:

"Am I not right?"

"You are not," snapped Gallagher. "I did not address myself to you," growled Senator Reed over his shoulder.

Judge Ends Clash.

"Well, you got the truth," returned Sapiro's counsel.

If challenge that statement," put in Ward N. Choate, of Ford counsel. Judge Raymond ended it.

A little later Gallagher assailed Senator Reed's opening statement. Dropping the deferential "senator" he previously had used, Gallagher asserted that "Reed" made statements that never would be substantiated in court.

Walking slowly to the bar, the veteran senator spoke almost in a whisper. "Mr. Gallagher has said I made statements to the jury that never would be proved. I think that statement was uncalculated for."

Gallagher, chief of prohibition enforcement, asked permission to right a wrong impression.

"I meant," he said, "not that Senator Reed had misstated the facts but that there might be an honest dispute about some of the matters he touched upon. He said things, which in my opinion, are not legally admissible as evidence."

The senator appeared mollified and as he sat down remarked:

"That's a very different matter, an honest difference of opinion."

Cameron Kept on Stand.

Throughout it all the short, stout Cameron sat idly upon witness stand hands crossed over his ample bosom, while the remarks flew apparently unnoticed about his head.

At the end he faced another period on the stand tomorrow, although once during the day he almost lost his job as only witness of the trial.

Mr. Gallagher offered to withdraw from the stand temporarily, and call a string of other witnesses. Judge Raymond said that this would hopelessly muddle affairs, and would not permit it.

Cameron's outstanding bit of testimony today provided a further slight insight into the affairs of the Ford organization.

He admitted that in addition to his duties as editor of the Independent, he also edited the copy of outside writers who interviewed Mr. Ford. After he had been present at an interview, the manuscript of the writer would be submitted to him, and he would give over it to see that the automobile manufacturer had not been misquoted.

Gallagher asked him if he had investigated the propriety of the articles mentioning Sapiro and he replied that he had not because he never had recognized their impropriety.

Jurors Watch Sapiro.

The six women and six men of the jury sat erect and paid close attention when Sapiro took the floor to read to them. They had lolled in their chairs, apparently paying but little attention previously when Gallagher had stood 10 feet from them and faced the judge as he read.

Sapiro, a trim, slightly built man, walked right over to the jurors and read to them with the proper inflections in his well-modulated voice. He smiled and encountered several phrases as "international Jewry" and "Otto Kahn and Bernard Baruch, down to Aaron Sapiro and lesser Jews," glancing up with a pair of keen black eyes.

Mrs. Sapiro, modestly attired in green, was in the courtroom for the first time. She sat several feet from her husband and took numerous notes, she glanced about while Sapiro read, apparently studying effects.

Thirty minutes of the afternoon session was taken up with a secret conference in chambers between Judge Raymond and counsel. None of those involved would reveal its details for publication.

ERRORS OF FACT LAID TO MELLON ON DEBTS

Secretary Fails to Meet Moral Issue, Professor at Columbia Asserts.

APPROVED BY FACULTY

New York, March 23 (By A. P.).—Errors of fact and interpretation in the reply of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon to a statement of the political science faculty of Columbia university, made public last December, in which the faculty members opposed the policy of the United States on war debts, are charged in the latest document to be added to the forensic debate.

The document, made public today, is a letter written by Edwin R. A. Seligman, McVickar professor of political economy at Columbia, to Secretary Mellon. Prof. Seligman's letter expresses the view of the 42 members of the faculty that signed the December statement, which was approved by President Hibben and 116 members of Princeton's faculty. Mr. Mellon's reply was addressed to President Hibben, and sought to justify the debt policy of the administration.

"In the first place," Prof. Seligman says, "when you speak of loans as investments, and indeed throughout your argument you pass over in silence those moral aspects of the debt situation which formed the principal basis of the Columbia and Princeton statements. The question will not be finally settled until we reach an adjustment that is morally defensible as well as economically sound, but it would be idle for me to attempt here to add anything to the moral phase of the subject. I desire only to point out that your letter fails to meet this issue at all."

"You intimate, in the second place, that our statement was based upon inadequate knowledge of the facts. I assure you that we are thoroughly familiar with all the facts that have been made public by the Treasury Department. If there is in your statement pertinent information of a fundamental character, which has not been divulged, and which we ought to have consulted, the statements thus far issued by the Treasury fail to suggest its existence, has not the time now come when any such information should be made public?"

Over the Coffee Cup

THE statisticians figure and figure and seem to get lost in figures. But somehow they figure more and more in our lives. Look at these figures:

8,743 "While-you-wait" shoe repair shops opened in the U. S., 8,972 customers are still waiting.

250,000 people failed to stop at "Stop" signals in Washington, D. C., when no policeman was on the corner.

No one failed to stop at "Stop" signals in Washington, D. C., when there was a policeman on the corner.

We cannot guarantee the exactness of the above facts, but they are good figures, anyhow.

We can, however, offer at least one true and guaranteed set of figures. It follows:

104,000,000 cups of Wilkins Coffee were enjoyed during 1926. 60,000,000 of these cups of delicious coffee were enjoyed by Washingtonians.

We hope to be able to better these figures for 1927. May we count on you to help us, providing you try Wilkins Coffee and find it deserving of your support?

REED AGENT GOES TO PENNSYLVANIA TO SEIZE BALLOTS

South, With $1,000 Provided by Senator, Starts on Trip Barry Refused.

RESISTANCE ANNOUNCED BY COURT AUTHORITIES

Action Expected to Bring Status of 'Slush Fund' Committee Into Court.

By NORMAN W. BAXTER.

Jerry C. South, special deputy of the Reed "slush fund" committee, left Washington yesterday afternoon to carry the war into the enemy's country—Pennsylvania.

South, who was deputized by the Reed committee following the refusal of David S. Barry, Senate sergeant at arms, to serve the committee without legal opinion as to its authority, has been ordered to get the ballot boxes in Delaware, Lackawanna, Luzerne and Schuylkill counties. These boxes were asked for by W. B. Wilson, defeated candidate for the Senate in the campaign against William S. Vare.

Although South is equipped with financial ammunition in the form of $1,000 provided by Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, after Senator Henry W. Keyes, of New Hampshire, had refused to authorize the expenditure of any money from the contingent funds of the Senate, he will undoubtedly encounter considerable difficulty in carrying out his mission.

County Authorities Resist.

The authorities of two counties—Delaware and Lackawanna—already have announced publicly that they intend to resist the seizure of the boxes on the ground that the Reed committee has no authority to carry out its mission. The Senate of the Sixty-ninth Congress failed to act on the resolution extending the life of the committee. The members of the committee have voted that the continuing power of the Senate gives them ample authority on which to act.

Members of the committee are as confident as the supporters of Mr. Vare that the courts will be called into action as soon as South endeavors to impose any of the ballot boxes or other accessories of the election and from that time on a legal battle is in prospect since Senator Reed has stated he intended to obtain a Supreme Court ruling before he would acknowledge that the committee did not have power to act. The presumption last night was that South's first move would be in Delaware county, close to Philadelphia, the county at which is Media.

Sensors, who share the opinion that the committee is without power to act, do not believe the committee has by its most recent action found the way out of the difficulty which presented itself when the filibuster prevented passage of the resolution giving the committee new life.

Senator J. Keyes, whose action as chairman of the committee has cost him expenses, served to block the committee's effort to expend any further portion of the $400,000 originally appropriated for its use, continues to have his doubts about the committee's power.

Keyes Criticizes Committee Action.

He said yesterday he considered the use of private funds to carry on the work of the Reed committee was highly "improper" and that he knew of no precedent which allowed such substitution. He said that never in his knowledge has any committee of the Senate attempted to use private funds for public work and expressed the opinion that such a course of procedure was "preposterous."

The fact that Senator Reed has said that the Seventieth Congress in December will force the committee to reimburse the committee for any money that it may have spent did not appear to worry Senator Keyes.

"Let's wait until December," he said, "and see if that is true or not. There are a great many things that Senator Reed has said that may not come true."

Second Boy's Body Is Found in Lake

Chicago, March 23 (By A. P.).—A second boy's body was washed ashore from Lake Michigan at Gary, Ind., today and was believed by authorities to support a theory that three boys had been drowned.

The body of Andrew Skubek, 11, was recovered yesterday. He and his brother, John, 15, and Walter Wojcik had been missing since Saturday night and were reported to have been seen in a boat on the lake.

Walter Skubek, father of Andrew, believes his son was deliberately drowned by the other son. Both sons, said the father, were always quarreling.

Consuls in Shanghai Omit American Consul General

Official Call on Gen. Pai News to Mr. Gauss—Act Causes Wonderment—U. S. Marines Hold Bridge in the Rain.

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

Shanghai, March 23.—The name "Markham road bridge," probably does not mean much to the American people, but it is important nevertheless because there are American marines standing there in the rain tonight with two machine guns and one trench mortar trained on the Chinese territory. A pressure on the trigger would send a stream of lead into the Chinese street approaching the bridge across Soochow creek, connecting the international settlement with the territory of the Chinese republic.

The marines designated for this job tonight are Capt. W. T. Clement, of Richmond, Va.; Sgt. J. T. B. Hanly, of Newark, N. J.; Sgt. Stephen J. Tine, home address unknown; Corp. Joe Pittenger, of Kansas City, Mo.; Private Mail, of Rogers, Tex.; Private A. C. Kizer, of Tusculum, Ala.; and Private J. A. Morrow, of Des Moines and Fresno, Calif.

Markham road bridge where the marines for the first time went into the front lines, is a strategic point in the factory district, particularly susceptible to labor agitation and an important thoroughfare, the scene of many conflicts in the past between the Chinese and foreigners.

Previous to today this area was controlled by a British battalion of the famous Coldstream guards, but early this morning the Coldstreamers sent an urgent call for reinforcements, and since the British had no men available, Private J. A. Morrow, of Des Moines and Fresno, Calif.

Markham road bridge where the marines for the first time went into the front lines, is a strategic point in the factory district, particularly susceptible to labor agitation and an important thoroughfare, the scene of many conflicts in the past between the Chinese and foreigners.

Private Raymond Walter Strauch, who was slightly wounded by a spent bullet while on duty at the customs jetty this morning, has entirely recovered and returns to duty this afternoon.

Considerable speculation is aroused today when the British, French and Japanese consuls at Shanghai called in a body on the Chinese consul, Mr. Pai Tsung-Hsi, without inviting the American consul, Clarence Gauss, to accompany them. The call was made at 11 o'clock and Mr. Pai Tsung-Hsi was not informed until noon when a local Japanese news service issued a bulletin telling of the conference.

Mr. Gauss was surprised by the information, since it is customary for the consuls to call on new Chinese officials in a body. He immediately consulted the Japanese consul general, Mr. Yada, regarding the purpose of the conference, but Mr. Yada stated he desired to interview the Chinese commander-in-chief regarding the disposition of some 4,000 northern Chinese troops who were disarmed and sent to Shanghai on Japanese property inside the international settlement. Mr. Yada stated the Cantonese are arranging through a local organization for the financing and repatriation of the troops to Shantung.

The correspondent then asked the French consul regarding the purpose of the conference with the Chinese consul and was informed that the French desired to effect cooperation with the Cantonese respecting protection of the French electric light and power station, which is located adjacent to the Chinese territory and hence is subject to interference.

The British consul, however, learned through Chinese circles close to Gen. Pai Tsung-Hsi that the real purpose of the British, Japanese and French consuls' call was to find out the Chinese commander's attitude respecting the general strike. Replying to the consuls, Gen. Pai is reported to have said the strike was called in order to show the Cantonese army that the Chinese people here are sympathetic toward the Cantonese cause.

The fact that the American consul was not invited to the conference is causing considerable wonderment locally leading to speculation that the consuls are not entirely harmonious respecting the methods of procedure. Reuters, a British news service, published a long dispatch from Washington today stating that indications point to close cooperation between America, Great Britain and France, but not mentioning Japan.

(Copyright, 1927, by the Chicago Tribune.)

Absence of Consul Gauss Is Not Held Significant

(By the Associated Press.)

The manifesto issued in Shanghai yesterday by the nationalistic Pai Tsung-Hsi, declaring that the Chinese people captured by the Cantonese forces was to become a base for world revolution against imperialism, failed to arouse any great apprehension in official quarters in Washington.

BRITISH DESTROY PIRACY NEST NEAR HONGKONG

Cruisers and Planes Demolish Resort of Sea Raiders at Bias Hay.

HOPE BAND IS BROKEN

London, March 23 (By A. P.).—An old-established stronghold of piracy in China fell today before an up-to-the-minute attack in which airplane bombing figured.

Bias Bay, a notorious resort of sea raiders, situated a short distance up the coast from Hongkong, was demolished by British warships. One aircraft carrier, two cruisers and two destroyers participated in the attack. After the bombardment, in which no lives were reported lost, the warships returned to port.

The bombardment was provoked by an attack Monday night on the steamer Hopsang, when the Hopsang reached Hongkong. The officers reported that pirates had overpowered the crew, robbed the vessel, wounding a European passenger and gone ashore at Bias Bay. Today's punitive expedition followed upon the report.

Authorities in London are hopeful, but not certain, that the Bias Bay pirates band has been dispersed, for it is pointed out that many wily denizens of Bias Bay are peaceful citizens once they are in port. For many years they have preyed in this manner on shipping in the South China sea.

The pirates scatter from Bias Bay over the wild hinterland after each foray and gather again after their loot has been expended. Their method is to board some richly-laden steamer in Bias Bay, where the cargo is looted and the passengers robbed. Then the ship is allowed to continue its voyage.

De Pinedo's Route Announced by Eberle

The route through this country of Col. Francesco de Pinedo, Italian aviator, on a four-continent flight, was announced yesterday, by Admiral E. W. Eberle, chief of naval operations, Navy Department.

Col. de Pinedo, now en route from South America, will fly his Savoia seaplane from New Orleans where he is scheduled to arrive today, to Galveston, Tex. His route from there will include Hot Springs, N. Mex.; San Diego and San Francisco, Calif.; Seattle, Wash.; Malta, Mont.; Chicago, Ill., and New York, at dates not yet determined. Naval officials at cities along the route were instructed to extend the usual courtesies to the flier.

Balloon Record Falls; Bag Up 28,510 Feet

Capt. Hawthorne C. Gray, army air service, established an American free balloon flight altitude record when he went to 28,510 feet at Scott Field, Ill., March 9, according to an announcement by the bureau of standards yesterday, but he did not break the world's record. This record, 35,424 feet, is held by Germans, Suring and Ben-Haim.

Capt. Gray broke the record previously held by Clifford B. Harmon, who ascended to 15,997 feet October 4, 1909. Capt. Gray lost consciousness when he reached 28,000 feet, but subsequently recovered and suffered only minor ill effects.

HONORS PAID TO BODIES OF GOOD-WILL AVIATORS

Planes Meet Ship Bearing Men Killed in Crash in Argentina.

COFFINS SHIPPED WEST

New York, March 23 (By A. P.).—The bodies of Capt. Clinton F. Woolsey and Lieut. John W. Benton, Pan-American good-will fliers, who were killed February 26 in Buenos Aires, were brought home today for a final resting place on American soil.

With army airplanes from Mitchell field circling overhead, the liner Vauban, flags at halfmast, slowly moved up to harbor to its pier in Hoboken with the bodies. Noisy harbor craft in the Hudson river silenced their whistles as the vessel reached the last stop of its journey.

The planes were in a formation suggestive of that assumed by the flight of the South American fliers, and the especially handsome homes of John Hay and Henry Adams for the purpose of erecting another eight-story apartment house to front the White House.

"Who has made it possible for him to carry out such a purpose? Protests have faded and now, if he can make Sixteenth street from H street to Scott circle a commercial area, a new building can be erected on that most important corner of the city that may reach any imaginable height."

Others who opposed the change included former Representative John Phelan, of Maryland, former Representative Frank W. Mondell, of Idaho, a Delano, member of the National Capital park and planning commission; Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss, B. R. Howard, who also spoke for John Joy Edson, and spokesmen for the National Education association, the National Geographic society, the American Nature association, the American Tree association and the Dupont Circle and Thomas-Iowa Citizens Association.

The commission granted changes in zoning as follows:

Rear of lots in Connecticut avenue between Albemarle and Davenport streets owned by the Chevy Chase Land Co., from residential A restricted, 40-foot height, to residential C, 60-foot height, to match the fronts of the same lots.

Both sides of Gault place and Hayes street northeast between Forty-second and Forty-fourth streets, residential A to residential B restricted.

Residential B area on the west side of Tenth street northeast between Rhode Island avenue and the alley north, height limit from 40 to 60 feet, Massachusetts avenue and A street northeast residential B to residential C.

North side of M street northwest between Twenty-first and Twenty-sixth streets, first to second commercial.

Residential to commercial area—Both sides of O street northwest between Fourth and Fifth streets; 228 M street northwest; 5 Rhode Island avenue northwest; 10 North square 3007; and the east side of Eighth street northwest between Barry place and Pacific street.

DISMISSAL OF WORK SUGGESTED BY ODDIE

Secretary Mishandling Affairs of Interior Department, Senator Tells Coolidge.

(By the Associated Press.)

Senator Oddie (Republican), Nevada, yesterday told President Coolidge the country would be "better off" if Secretary Work retired as head of the Interior Department, as he was "mishandling the affairs of his office."

Nevada and other Western States, Senator Oddie advised the President, were dissatisfied with Secretary Work's handling of Indian affairs and the closing of a number of land offices in the West.

Furthermore, he said, the withdrawal from the public domain of 100,000 acres in Secret valley, Calif., for a naval ammunition depot was "a piece of high-handed interference on the part of the Secretary" after the budget director had recommended and the Senate had passed a bill providing for establishment of the depot at Hawthorne, Nev.

Oakland, Calif., March 23 (By A. P.). Secretary of Interior Work, when informed that Senator Oddie, of Nevada, had told President Coolidge the country would be "better off" if Mr. Work retired, said: "That is apparently Senator Oddie's opinion. Senator Oddie gets these attacks occasionally. He ought to speak for himself and not for the other representatives of the West."

Pen satisfaction results from the selection of the proper pen point. Waterman's offers a choice of nine pen points ranging from very fine to coarse stub.

Pen satisfaction results from the proper size holder. Waterman's may be had in any of five sizes ranging from thin to stout.

Pen satisfaction results from careful attention to manufacturing detail. From the light, resilient hard rubber holder to the iridium-tipped solid gold pen point, every Waterman feature must pass inspection of a score of lynx-eyed censors.

The pen illustrated is made of "Ripple" genuine stainless Rubber. It is No. 01855 and will suit most hands for size. It sells for $6.50. Smaller sizes cost $4.00 and $5.00. Larger sizes $7.50 and $9.50.

Guaranteed since 1883 and until 1983.

The pen that suits Henry Smith may not suit John Brown

TO BE perfectly satisfied, both Henry and John must have a holder that fits the hand, a pen point that suits their style of writing and must be given a choice of styles. This is true of any man or woman who buys a fountain pen.

Many fountain pens possess some features of excellence but all the features that insure long service and satisfaction are found only in Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen.

NECESSITIES

"Man wants but little here below, nor wants that little long," wrote Goldsmith many years ago with philosophy quite strong. The things some want they do without and still in comfort live. It's pleasant just to dream about the joys that riches give. The actual needs of rich or poor if of all luxuries disarmed, are to eat and drink and sleep, and more, at times they must be warmed. Now the last need's where we take a hand for we're champion heat diffusers. Our heat's that clean and restful brand and it satisfies the users.

The Housekeeper

I THINK that life is like that, Katherine—in that what we have is seemingly less than what we want,
 and that what we want is covered ways with a golden, roseate glow by virtue of its unattainable distance. But we can not be sure at all that, once having clasped tightly the removed thing that we feel will bring happiness we shall actually experience it. For happiness is variable, and although dependable on many things, does after all depend largely on ourselves, and there is certain glow that comes from just contentment—glow that may be happiness—who can say. But surely, whether we give happiness a boundary
 or not, there is satisfaction in the act of striving from day to day to accomplish something—the accomplishment is worth while—which brings an element of peace.

You alone will understand these few lines. You have asked me to answer through the column, and I have done so as far as I may. Your letter was of profound interest to me, and greatly as I feel for you, and sure as I am that there are, as you say, others enduring suffering not unlike yours, still, I feel that to send more than this to you through the column would be most unwise. As you are not in the city, and therefore unable to come to the studio,
 I shall, very soon, write you at length.
 And I shall send you a few lines of which I am very sure that you will treasure.

"If I have faltered more or less,
 in my great task of happiness,"
 Our cook-book, as is sometimes the way with such things, was delayed by one day, but they are ready for you today and the distribution is to take place at once. There are, however, a great many to be sent out and we have not a great many pairs of hands with which to make them ready, so if all who expect and await these little books do not receive them the first day please may I ask their indulgence?

In spite of my interest in the maple cream that comes from Vermont, and in spite of my name of Carey, I am not a relative of the family by that name in Vermont, nor in any way of which I know am I even distantly related to them. But it is a coincidence, is it not, L. S. H.? New England is a glorious country, and one of which I am very fond. I have spent a good many summers among the shadowy blue hills of Vermont, and have loved the picturesque "saw tooth" mountains that run along through Cavendish gorge and the surrounding lands down below Ludlow.
 As a matter of fact, one of the recipes in the cook-book—the one that is marked M. G. S. Ludlow, Vt., came some time ago from a lady of whom many of us, I fancy, have heard. This lady is Mrs. Sargent of Ludlow, and Mr.
 Sargent, of Ludlow, is the Attorney General of these United States.

I have just had a very delightful letter from Mrs. D., who recently gave a luncheon with the plans of which I was able to help her. The luncheon was, judging from the lady's letter, considerable of a success and apparently "a good time was had by all." And surely, since the party was of great interest to me at the time of the planning, it is of interest to me now to hear that it went off nicely—that the menu we planned was attractive to the guests and enjoyed by them and that the table looked just as we had hoped it would look. A letter seems a small thing, but it is a source of great satisfaction to us here at the studio. We feel almost as though these ideas of ours that go forth must die somewhere along the way, for they go out into the mail as embryonic social affairs, and that is often the last we hear of many of them. When we do hear of their success it is a great pleasure, for there is both satisfaction and pleasure in a completed thing.

I have your note at hand, C. R. A.,
 and indeed should very much like to have your recipe for oatmeal bread. We have said many times that these cattings give color to the column—not the bread exactly, although it is oatmeal rather than white, but the newness and "differentness" of a contribution from a reader helps to avoid the well known rut into which we all easily slip if we are not careful, and of which we especially wish to keep clear here at the studio.

We have spoken of picnics that we shall soon be having, and spoken, too, of a few recipes in the column that will assist with these plans. They are to follow today. But may I ask before we turn to the recipes that the homemakers who have given me their names for books send along the little 50 cent

checks any time now, that I may transfer their name from the unpaid to the paid list and send them a book.

THE PICNIC BASKET.

No longer are we limited to sandwiches and cake on a picnic as we used to be. Some time ago, when skirts were humped up in the back over an extensive bustle and sleeves were like balloons from the elbows up and like banana skins from the lunch box for the days that ladies gambled on the green. We had very hard, unromantic looking eggs which kept their shape because of the shell
 in which they were carried, and fruit, and a chocolate cake, possibly the parts of a cold fried chicken and certainly sandwiches in abundance that were accompanied by coffee in a beer bottle that was wrapped in newspaper while a prayer was said that it keep it hot till they all walked down to the canal to take luncheon.

Not so today. We have dainty salads that are beautifully prepared and mixed either at the scene of the picnic or before we leave the house, and we have ice cold coffee or punch that the thermos has preserved for us, and pies sometimes, and usually fluffy light cakes made one to a person to do away with the cutting of a big cake, and we have eggs that are stuffed at home with all sorts of delicate flavor, and sandwiches that are an art in themselves. I think we have all this now because we are less practical these days about the things we eat, and we want them to be at once frivolous and delicious and appetizing while delightful to look upon.

We shall go about the business of picnic delicacies in two installments, one today and one on Saturday. And today let us think about one or two sandwich fillings that are both unusual and good.

SANDWICH FILLINGS.*To Use Ham.

Ham may be used in many ways for sandwiches, and mixed with many things. It is a good plan to grind the cold ham that is to be used in small sandwiches, for the taste is in no way impaired and the eating of the sandwich may thus be made less difficult.
 It may, for one thing, be ground finely and mixed with highly seasoned American cheese. To mix ham with American cheese the cheese must first be creamed by cutting it into small bits and then patiently creaming it with a spoon until it becomes quite soft and blends together. Add to this a bit of Worcestershire sauce, a few drops of onion juice and a little salt and pepper. Add then a few stuffed olives that have been chopped very finely and then a little less ham than there is cheese. Spread on squares of buttered bread, remove the crusts and wrap the sandwiches individually in bits of paraffin paper.

Cucumber Filling.

Peel and shave a cucumber, making
 the slices as thinly shaven as is possible.
 When shaved chop very fine and work
 the mass into a cake of cream cheese.
 Add one pimento minced to a pulp and a few walnuts cut in small pieces.
 Spread on brown bread and keep moist by wrapping individually in paraffin paper.

We have not gone far with our sandwiches, which leaves much to be done with our picnic basket on Saturday.
 That day we shall concentrate and hope that Sunday dawns bright and clear for picnickers. It happens that we have been asked to publish some picnic suggestions so judge that the inclination for supper in the open must be in the breeze.

 of beauty of which they're unaware until some unexpected touch—the becoming line of a hat—a dash of color—a simple change of beauty aids—reveals this hidden loveliness! For thousands of girls everywhere, each dainty box of Black and White Face Powder is a treasure-trove. Imparting airy-fairy fluffiness, appealing fragrance, warmly glowing color, which softens and minimizes imperfections of feature or complexion, enhances every charm and gives a new beauty and sheen like that of rare velvet!
 Miss Remes says: "I'm more than grateful to this delicately clinging face powder for showing me how to look my best all day,
 three hundred and sixty-five days a year! It's so soft and fine itself, it keeps my skin that way, too, and its true flesh-tones are flatteringly

GAS LIGHT AND TRACTION SHARES LEAD MARKET

Capital Stock Exchange Deals Show Strength in Bids for Local Stocks.

BANK WOMEN FORM CLUB

By F. W. PATTERSON.

With interest spread pretty well throughout the last, yesterday's session of the Washington Stock Exchange was the best of the week. Strength dominated in bid prices and prevailed in all transactions with many stocks accomplishing fractional gains.

Washington Gas Light and Capital Traction were the market leaders, the Gas stock beginning the day with an overnight gain of 1/8 to 7/8, and ending the session at 7 3/4, the level of Tuesday's close. Seven transactions were recorded for a turnover of 104 shares. Capital Traction picked up 1/4 on first sale of 25 shares, and maintained this level on three more sales involving 95 shares. Potomac Electric preferred advanced 1/2 point to 109.

While bidding was general in the bank list the only transaction recorded was in National Savings and Trust Co. stock, which sold unchanged at 51 1/2. Departmental Bank, selling on the unrelated department, sold to the extent of a single share at 4 1/2.

In the miscellaneous list Federal-American Co. common was firm with 10 1/2 shares moving at 36; Merchants Transfer & Storage preferred sold at 100; Merchants Transfer & Storage common, 100 shares; Peoples Drug Stores preferred began the day at 108 1/2 and closed at 109, while Lanston Monotype was unchanged at 95.

The bond market came in for more attention than usual, Washington Gas 6s, series "B," at 105 and 105 1/2; the 100; Washington Railway & Electric 4s moved at 85 1/2 and 85 3/4; Barber & Ross, Inc., 6 1/2s, sold at 88, and Washington, Alexandria & Mount Vernon 5s sold at 104 1/2.

Women at Dinner Form Club.

The organization of the Bank Women's club, of Washington, was completed last night at a meeting of the group of local bank women who have been working out the details for the club. The meeting was held at the Iron Gate Inn, following a get-together dinner.

As provided in the constitution and by-laws, which were adopted last night, an election of officers was held and to Miss Lois A. White, Federal-American National Bank, fell the honor of being chosen the first president of the club. Miss Mary Jane Winfree, secretary of Continental Trust Co., was elected vice president. Miss Catherine Kriggs, National Bank, recording secretary. Miss Esther Lau, Riggs National Bank, corresponding secretary. Miss S. Winfield, Bureau of National Metropolitan Bank, treasurer, and Miss Mabel V. Joyce, Washington Loan & Trust Co., secretary. The officers, with four additional members, comprise the board of directors. The additional members were: Miss Louise Mitchell, Miss Frances Davidson, Security Savings & Investment Co.; Miss Mildred Wood, American Security & Trust Co.; and Miss Grace Bromley, assistant secretary of the Bankers Association.

The five bank women were present and attended the constitution as charter members. The club will hold its first meeting on the 24th of April at 8 p. m. The club will have the purpose and equipment used to create the club's fund of giving products.

The bureau will give information concerning its operations and there will be on display an old hand-type press formerly used in the work of the bureau. Due to the huge press used by the government it is not possible to have one of these on display, but the progress achieved in the bureau will be depicted by large photographs made for demonstration purposes.

Collections of samples of currency, government bonds and postage stamps will be placed in the club to give a comprehensive view of these products of the only establishment of its kind in the country, with every kind and denomination represented. President P. H. Siddons, secretary American Security & Trust Co., is chairman of the publicity and exhibits committee for the conference.

Bonds Made Redeemable Here.

The Potomac Electric Power Co. has arranged with the National City Bank, New York, trustee for its general and refunding bonds, so that the 7 per cent bonds called for redemption on April 1, 1927, may be redeemed either at the National City Bank in New York, or at the American Security & Trust Co., according to announcement yesterday by William F. Ham, president. It was pointed out that this arrangement had been made for the convenience of local holders of these bonds, who in this way will be spared the trouble and expense of forwarding their bonds to New York for redemption.

Security Club to Present Play.

The Security club, of the American Security & Trust Co., will present its annual play, "The Boomerang," tomorrow night at the Wilson Normal school, Eleventh and Harvard streets northwest. The cast includes Misses Margaret Buckley, Helen Dooley, Ellen Crawford, Francis Carrick, Helen Smith and Frank Perley, William Higbie, Denis Connell, Augustus Fraley, Louis Knight and Tom Howard.

The play is produced under the direction of Denis Connell, who has played with the St. Patrick's players and with local and visiting stock companies. "The Boomerang," written by Winchell Smith and Victor Mages, first produced professionally in 1915, proved extremely popular throughout the country and the long run which it enjoyed in Washington at the Shubert-Belasco was largely responsible for its selection by the Security club as the vehicle for its annual show tomorrow night. Frank M. Perley, is president of the club.

Bankers' Council to Meet.

Edward Moran, president of the District Bankers association, has called a meeting of the council of administration, to be held in the room of the association in the Becker building, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Riggs Magazine Out.

The March number of the Clearing House Key, edited by William M. Rankin, Jr., and published by the Riggs National Bank, was placed on circulation yesterday. The magazine, which, in the words of the editors, "is published solely for the illuminating and enlightening of the personnel of the Riggs National Bank, and is strictly a house organ," wittily reviews the doings of the bank personnel, reports on the success of the athletic teams, presents the month in review in cartoons and offers some worth-while editorials and poems. The feature article is one devoted to William J. Flather, vice president of the bank, who on February 4, 1927, rounded out 50 years with the Riggs National Bank, in which tribute is paid to this banker of the "revered old school," by whose example we might well pattern our own careers. The article is highly interesting, and while it reveals the career in the institution of Mr. Flather, it also offers a concise history of the bank itself.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

NEAR TRADING'S CLOSE

Many Early Losses Are Wiped Out; Rail Stocks Forge Steadily Ahead.

STEELS SHOW UP WELL

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, March 23.—The downward momentum gained by stocks yesterday was continued today in an active and irregular market, but the tone improved greatly in the last hour, much of the early loss was regained in many groups and at the close plus outnumbered minus signs and, as a rule, net gains were wider than the losses.

Like many recent sessions the market was made up of several groups of securities which moved without any apparent concern for the trend of others. In the early trading high-priced industrials were dropping rather easily to levels 3 or 4 points below where they closed yesterday, while the rails were forging upward steadily, with Lackawanna, one of the leaders, running up more than 8 points to a new high.

Early in the afternoon the rails seemed to tire and the utilities began to climb. Only in the last hour when a firmness set in throughout the list, were there any uniformity. The early attack on the motors was particularly heavy, while oil stocks, which had been dropping from 1 to 3 points before support put in an appearance. The turnover was heavier than usual, running close to 2,400,000 in gold.

As the news of the day was by no means of a sort to encourage selling of securities, it is probable that much of the early trading of the day was represented the closing of thinly margined commitments. Car loadings for the week ended March 22 broke all records for the corresponding week in other years, topping a million; weekly steel reviews were optimistic; Japan shipped another $2,000,000 in gold to America yesterday. Call money was easier, although continuing at 4 1/2 per cent, and high-grade bonds were in strong demand.

General Motors stock slipped sharply under heavy early attacks. At one time it was 4 points below yesterday's last price. Finally the shares steadied and moved upward as rapidly as they had fallen, closing within a fraction of the opening price. The turnover of this stock alone amounted to 300,000 shares. With the exception of Hudson, which closed with a net loss of 2 1/2, most of the other motors, after a more or less serious struggle, were worked back to points either fractionally below or above their opening prices.

The steels as a group made a better showing than the motors, all closing with net gains which ranged up to 2 1/2 points. United States Steel common made up more than 3 points of early loss and closed almost a point higher.

Most of the rails closed higher on the day, although Lackawanna, which had a point taking, yielded part of the early gains in the late trading, including the leader, which boomed upward on the announcement that it had received a $2,000,000 loan to be split. At the finish, Lackawanna was up 5 1/2; Atchafalaya, 1 1/2; Atlantic Coast Line, 2 1/2; Chesapeake & Ohio, 2 1/2; Pullman, 1 1/2; Norfolk & Western, 1 1/2; Southern Pacific, 1 point, and so on.

The best advances in the industrial list, apart from motors and steels, were secured by American Carbide, Worthington Pump, American & Foreign Power, American Woolen, United States Rubber, Manhattan Electric Supply, Monticello Power, Commercial Solvents B. and General Railway Signal. In numerous cases recoveries of the previous day's points were made in the final hour. The weaker, less seasoned industrials showed the only heavy losses on the day.

Sterling and pesetas, again at new highs—the former for the year and the latter for six years—featured foreign exchange declines. The Spanish rate touched 17.83, a 16-point rise on the day, but closed only 10 points up. In the gold currencies, marks were firm and Swedish kroner duplicated their previous high. Other Europeans were little changed.

NATS' RECRUITS STAR IN DEFEAT OF BROOKLYN, 4-2

Atlanta Field Topped by Sweetser

Amateur, With Cruickshank, Has Best Ball of 64.

Jones and Hagen Get 67; Voigt Among Leaders.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 23 (By A. P.).—Jesse Sweetser, British amateur champion, and Bobby Cruickshank, unattached professional, with a medal score of 64, led the big field of four hundred here today in the curtain-raiser to the Southern open golf championship tournament, which begins tomorrow over Eastlake Country club course.

Sweetser, paired with Cruickshank, who lately won the Los Angeles open, set a swift pace on the first three holes to lead, 64 to 67, in an eighteen-hole best-ball medal match with Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen.

"Long Jim" Barnes, New York professional, paired with Gene Cook, Georgia State amateur champion, scored a 65 to tie with Emmett French, Youngstown, Ohio, pro, and Joe Byrdick, Buffalo, N. Y., for second honors of the day.

Third came Bill Goebel, professional, and Paul Haddock, both of Charlotte, with a 66, to tie Johnny Farrell, New York, paired with Charles Black, Atlanta amateur.

Cruickshank gathered birdies on the first two holes, Sweetser added another on the third and they were never headed. Jones and Hagen, both of form in their putting, missed some good chances to even up the score.

While Cruickshank counted most of a low medal score, taking the first, second and sixth holes, Sweetser's game was brilliant in every department except putting, in which he was a bit erratic. His birdie 3 on the 350-yard third was the only hole he won but he continually helped to halve other holes.

Sweetser said again tonight he would complete in the Southern open tomorrow. He had thought his health would not permit him to enter but his excellent game in the pro-amateur best ball play today confirmed his intention to play.

Hagen's sensational contribution to the afternoon's play was his eagle 3 on the 525-yard ninth. Bobby's drive went in the lake on this hole and he pried up a five.

EXHIBITION GAMES

(By the Associated Press.)
At St. Petersburg, Fla., March 23 (By A. P.).—The 1927 season of exhibition games between the American and National leagues began today with a game between the Yankees and the Braves at St. Petersburg, Fla. The Yankees won, 4 to 2.

COBB CAN HIT AS OF YORE, HE SAYS

Good Batters Do Not Forget How to Slug, Veteran Declares.

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 23 (By A. P.).—A sailor may forget the sea and a bride her wedding dress, but a good hitter never forgets to hit. So says Ty Cobb, who today declared that he could hit as well as he ever did.

"I am not worrying about the hitting end of my play as I go about the job of getting myself in shape to play for the Athletics. I am confident that I will hit."

"As one grows older, of course, some of the spring goes out of the legs and that great pitcher, the old-timer, has to be a little more careful. But I have been hitting as well as I ever did, and I am confident that I will hit."

"A little smartness, now and then, can be used at the bat just as in other places in baseball. Another thing—the young batters are sometimes awed by the reputation of a pitcher."

"He's thinking about what a big responsibility he has hitting against the old-timer. He doesn't think about who is out there. He doesn't care, and certainly he doesn't get the inferiority complex a younger player sometimes has."

"I will be in good shape for the opening of the season and expect to have a great year with a great club. I have had a little trouble with my back this spring."

"I sprained it sliding about eight years ago and some of the muscles have given me some trouble. That, however, is a temporary condition and will be disposed of soon."

"I am very happy to be playing again and for Connie Mack, a great character and a wonderful manager. I am sure that he has a remarkable team and I think we should win."

Critz, Reds' Holdout, Says He Will Retire

Greenwood, Miss., March 23 (By A. ## "Ideal" Stars Draw Ire of Umpire

Wilson Tells Why He Refuses to Take Insults of Players.

Cobb, Speaker Ran Him Out of League, He Tells Pegler.

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23. Umpire Frank Wilson, the human lightning rod who just naturally draws insults from the ballplayers in the American league and then fires them out in squads like an efficiency man reorganizing a newspaper office, came through today's game between the Yankees and the Braves with his dignity in good repair.

Only Miller Huggins, of all people, who lives on crockers and milk and never even warms up a pitcher because, as one of his old players recently alleged, a wobbling slow ball would knock the mitt off his hand and up into the grandstand, picked on Mr. Wilson today.

Just as the Yankees poured out of their trench to take the field in the first inning, Mr. Huggins reminded them that Mr. Wilson had been run out of the American league and Wilson told him to shut up because one more crack of that nature would get him thrown out of the game.

This would have been a terrible thing for the Yankees because, as every one knows, Babe Ruth simply can not hit unless Mr. Huggins is on the bench to inspire him.

So Mr. Huggins shut up and they had a nice, comical game of ball in which the Babe whined one home run over the canvas wall of the outfield with two runners on, and another under the curtain with nobody on. He hit one for two bases, also, and the Yankees won, 16 to 7.

It was well for the Babe that Mr. Huggins did shut up. After the game your correspondent walked out on the lot and intercepted Mr. Wilson as he picked up the official resin bag with the official seal of Judge Landis still adhering to the little Durham sack.

"Why do they always pick on you?" asked your correspondent.

"Because Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker ran me out of the American league five years ago," he said. "They were stars and they drew the money at the gate and I was only a recruit umpire, so when I threw them out of ball games I was the one who had to go."

"In the American league I was expected to take rotten language and insults that they wouldn't have dared to hand me on the streets, because I would have licked them so that they never would have played ball again. It was a tax for the general athletic benefits obtained from the membership."

"Unless their plans are changed at the last minute, the Arcadia and Aloysius clubs will stage their boxing bouts scheduled for Tuesday night, despite the arrest of officials and boxers of the District Athletic club Tuesday night."

Although section 876 of the District code provides that where admission is charged, "directly or indirectly," no boxing bouts may be held, the above clubs assert that the money paid as dues in the club is not even "indirectly" paid as an admission charge, but only as a tax for the general athletic benefits obtained from the membership.

Just what the distinction is between this interpretation of their membership system and the proper interpretation to be placed on the District law is a moot question.

Meanwhile, the eight men—a boxing promoter and seven boxers—arrested Tuesday will be given a preliminary hearing before a police court this morning. It is likely that they will waive examination at this time and be bound over to the grand jury.

Supt. of Police Edwin B. Hesse declared yesterday that the police department would wage a fight against fight promoters operating under the mantle of athletic club directors.

Joseph M. Eastman, District A. C. president; Henry Lamar and Jeff Smith, boxers at the bouts Tuesday, who were out on bond yesterday, will appear this morning, as well as five other boxers who were forced to spend a night in jail, as they could not arrange bond. They are Joey Fox, of Philadelphia, and Frank Welner, Harry M. Gauszka, Galen W. Jackson and Joe Perrone, of Washington.

Saunders Leads League Scorers by Single Point

A one-point margin separates Rusty Saunders of Washington, and Chick Fason of Philadelphia, for leadership in the American league basketball race. Saunders has a total of 360 points to Fason's 359.

Saunders has registered 105 field goals in the 36 games he has played. He has four games to play, while Fason has but one, and will probably clinch the scoring honors.

The ten leading high scorers are: No. Name and Team. Points. 1. Saunders, Wash. 360. 2. Fason, Phila. 359. 3. Horgan, N. Y. 345. 4. Beckman, Baltimore 340. 5. Rust, Cleveland 338. 6. ## WIDE LEAVES TO OPPOSE RITOLA

Swedish Star Would Break 2-Mile Mark at N. Y. Saturday.

EDVIN WIDE, the Swedish schoolmaster runner who has been training the last few days at Georgetown university, will leave today for New York, where on Saturday night he will meet Willie Ritola in a special 2-mile race at Madison Square Garden.

When both fliers will make an attempt to break Paavo Nurmi's world record.

The Swedish runner, staided that he has just about reached the peak of form, took a snappy workout early yesterday afternoon on the Georgetown track and wound up the day in a Turkish bath.

He plans to do little or no training until Saturday night, when he will make his supreme effort to lower the mark for the 2 miles, which will close his indoor season and his track activities until his first outdoor appearance at Harvard on May 7. Wide will return to Georgetown following his race Saturday night to train for this event.

Reports have it that Ritola has turned a mile in 4:27 and a fraction, traveling at the pace he plans to go for the entire distance Saturday.

Last fall the Bowie course, which Superintendent Richard Fending had made over from end to end through the summer, was the fastest in Maryland. The going was uniform as to texture and the drainage so effective it was fast within a day after six or seven hours' rain. There has been plenty of snow this winter, although none has remained on the ground long and the track has settled a lot. The going should be better in April than it was last fall.

Tucker Clouts Home Run In First

Nationals Use Only 4 Veterans; Crowder Baffles Robins.

Burke, Braxton Also Twirl, Allowing Only 3 Hits.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 23.—It was Rookie day here this afternoon for the Nationals, only four regulars appearing in the lineup against the Brooklyn Dodgers, and despite the absence of Harris, Speaker and Rice, who are injured, and of Joe Judge, who was taking a rest, the Washington club won, 4 to 2.

The game was a pitchers' battle, with Dazzy Vance, Bill Doak, Jess Petty and Jess Barnes performing on the mound for Brooklyn, while the Nationals divided their box duty between Alvin Crowder, Oakland Braxton and Bobby Burke. Only eight hits were batted out, Washington getting five of them.

Two players stood out in the performance. On the hill Gen. Crowder was a true wild cat, walking five in five frames, but when he did get the ball over the Dodgers were baffled. He did not grant a single hit. Braxton allowed two and Burke one.

Ollie Tucker was the game's real hero. In the first inning, with a mate on base, he crashed out a home-run drive over the right field fence, while he inserted another safety in the fifth which accounted for another run.

Afield he came through with a pair of exceptional catches. In the fourth he raced well over the foul line to snare Henline's drive for the third out, while he robbed Staz of at least a double and the Dodgers of a run in the seventh inning by gathering in a long looper over his shoulder within a foot of the center-field fence.

Seven Start In Live Oak Handicap

Florence Mills Second With Benedict Vow in Third Hole.

Lenny, Favorite, Cops From Juveniles in First Event.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 28 (By A. P.).—Devon, J. Greely's consistent 4-year-old colt, showed continued improvement in the live oak handicap, feature of the Jefferson park's program today. Bright sunshine, a good track and fair program brought out an excellent crowd.

It took all Devon and his rider, Eddie Ambrose, had to get up in time to beat out Florence Mills, which was purchased yesterday by O. V. W. Carroll. Devon got up to win by half a length, with the Idle Hour Farm's Benedict Vow third.

Florence Mills had disposed of General Haldeman, 3-year-old, who had been running the first five furlongs, and then Florence Mills held on, gaining under hard riding, but Ambrose had saved much ground with Devon and the colt responded gamely to hard urging, getting to the finish in the last sixteenth and beat her. He was one of the many winning outsiders which again made the row of favorites a hard one this afternoon.

E. K. Bryson's filly Lenny, an odds-on favorite, accounted for the Long Trial purse, a four furlong dash for 2-year-olds that opened the program. Lenny, who had been running in the first round at once and she opened a good lead which she needed at the end to hold a length's margin over Cariboo, which finished with determination under a poor ride. Miss Furbelw, who had been prominent in the first quarter held to third place.

The second race brought out a cheap band of platers at six furlongs. Harry B., owned by J. M. Bethel. The latter had taken the lead from Easter Laddie but could not hold the fourth place, which Harry B. Easter Laddie clung to third place.

A field just as cheap contested the mile and a furlong of the third race. J. M. Bethel's Harry B. was the favorite, but he was out of the gallop at the end of the race, and the gallop was taken by the favorite, Harry B. The latter had taken the lead from Easter Laddie but could not hold the fourth place, which Harry B. Easter Laddie clung to third place.

The final event was won by Lexington, a head over Chatterbox, who beat four-sixty five lengths for the place.

Atlas Store Sponsors Two Diamond Leagues

Inset and midget basketball leagues, which will play weekday ball and will not conflict with the Capital City league games, will be sponsored this season by the Atlas sporting goods store. Vic Gauma is heading the league.

Team representatives in the inset class will meet at 4 o'clock today at 287 S street northwest. Midgets will gather at the same hour and place tomorrow.

182 Billiard Matches To Turton and Powell

Frank Turton defeated Dr. Buynitsky, 200 to 131 in 31 innings, and Edward Powell won over Warren Hooks, 200 to 99 in 30 innings, in the 1923 billiard tournament being conducted at the Hotel de Krauss parlors. Turton had a high run of 17, while Powell came through with a string of 33.

D. C. Ahepa Winner In Baltimore Match

The Washington Ahepa defeated the Baltimore representative last night, 2,648 to 2,452. Tompores turned in a swing of 874 for the District team.

Pennock to Go South To Discuss Contract

Kenneth Burns, Pa., March 20 (By A. P.).—Earl Pennack, holdout pitcher of the New York Yankees, is expected to leave here tomorrow for St. Petersburg, Fla., where he is to have a conference with club officials on Saturday morning. Pennack, who lives here, was not available this afternoon, but it is understood he has not yet signed a contract for this season. Pennack is said to be holding out for $20,000 a year.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 23 (By A. P.).—Manager Huggins, of the New York Americans, said today he had not heard that Fitcher Fennock had been ordered to report and that he had nothordered to report and that he had nothing to say about the case. Col. Jake Ruppert, Yankee owner, said last week that if the pitcher failed to come to terms this week he would suspend him and let Commissioner Landis settle the case.

HIGH-GRADE BOND SALES

REMAIN FAIRLY STRONG

Price Movements Generally

Are Mixed as Market

Activity Declines.

U. S. ISSUES EASE OFF

New York, March 21 (By the Associated Press).—Activity continued to decline in the bond market today, while price movements were of a mixed character. Total sales fell below the $10,000,000 mark. The tapering off in trading probably was due to uncertainty over developments in China, and to a tendency on the part of dealers to await readjustments in the market. The full was regarded as temporary, as no serious tightening of the money situation is in prospect.

With a few exceptions high grade

railway issues displayed moderate

strength with Lake Shore 3 1/2's standing out as one of the favorites. Secondary issues were inclined to heaviness,

notably Peoria &amp; Eastern income 4's and the Erie "D" convertible 4's.

Offering will be made tomorrow of an issue of $30,000,000 50-year 4 1/2 per cent. bonds of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, priced at 97 to yield 4.65 per cent. Proceeds are to be used to retire the Burlington's 4 per cent

issue, Nebraska extension, due May 1.

While public utility mortgages on the whole appeared relatively quiet, more than 2 points were scored by

Northern Ohio Traction 5's. Interborough Rapid Transit 5's were found disappointing earnings report. Industrial issues were generally soft.

With considerable further selling of newly issued bonds, the Federal government was expected to be financially embarrassed.

Presumably because of the termination of the smuggling agreement between the United States and Mexico, governmental 5's of the latter country fell considerably. Other foreign issues for the most part, were slightly lower in price.

Sale was announced of $10,000,000

State of North Carolina 4 1/2's, 100

highway bonds, at a price to yield 4.10 per cent.
